Welcome aperitif at hotel

DAY 1

09:00 - 10:30

Theoretical

- Sinus anatomy, physiology, challenges and complications
- Prerequisites and choose of cases
- Techniques and when to use
- Minimally invasive flap
- Biomaterials – mix or not?
- Complication management
- Timing of placement and loading

Coffee break

10:45 - 11:15

Surgical skills update

- Flap management and the importance of wound closure

11:15 - 13:00

Hands-on part I

- The transcrestal sinus lift with implant placement and graft placement

Lunch at hotel

14:00 - 17:00

Hands-on part II

- "Trap-Door" and "Open Window" techniques
- Separation of Schneiderian Membran
- Complication management

19:00

Common dinner in town

DAY 2

09:00 - 10:00

The Disaster Session

RESORBA® SEMINAR

DESCRIPTION & TARGETS

WORKSHOP A "The Art of Suture and Graft: An AMS RESORBA® Masterclass" is designed as a two-day intensive hands-on course on defect repairs.

In the first module, The Six-Zero Standard – Superior Flap Management and Microsuturing, wound healing biology is discussed, with a thorough insight into suturing materials followed by step-by-step guidance through microsurgical suturing techniques.

The second module, Predictable Bone Grafting in Implant Dentistry, provides participants with clinical and scientific background on ridge defects, altogether with understanding of different grafting procedures deemed predictable for an in-office use. Detailed surgical steps of Guided Bone Regeneration (GBR) are demonstrated, followed by participants carrying out the procedure to regenerate a contained defect and achieve soft tissue closure by microsurgical means.

WORKSHOP B "Less Stress in Sinus Lifts: An AMS RESORBA® Masterclass" is designed as a two-day intensive hands-on course on predictable sinus grafting.

The course provides an in-depth theoretical background on maxillary sinus anatomy, physiology and pathology, with particular regards to the changes that impede implant placement in the posterior maxilla. Participants will be guided step-by-step through predictable solving of unfavourable anatomic traits in this region. Special attention is given to the core updates on surgical principles and essential flap management skills. Furthermore, the theoretical part will be accompanied by analyses of actual CBCT scans.

The second day starts with a „disaster“ session on complications associated with sinus lifts, steps to avoid them and detailed management.

In the intensive hands-on parts, participants will execute all mandatory surgical steps in both transcrestal sinus lifts with implant placement and lateral-window variants on both days. All the procedures will be carried out under supervision on state-of-the-art natural and artificial surgical models for different sinus lift approaches, adding to the confidence of the participants in their surgical setting.

The seminars will be held in English.
